

Prof. Dr. Wolfram Windisch

Consultant of Pneumology

Prof. Dr. Wolfram Windisch is pneumologist and intensivist and works as Consultant and Assistant Professor at the Department of Pneumology, University Hospital Freiburg, Germany. He leads an own research group, which has published several original contributions in the field of respiratory muscle function, mechanical ventilation and health-related quality of life. Professor Windisch is president of the German Society of home mechanical ventilation, secretary of the group Intensive Care Medicine of the German Medical Association of Pneumology and Ventilatory Support as well as secretary of the group Noninvasive Ventilatory Support of the European Respiratory Society. He is also the leading author of the current German Guidelines on Noninvasive and Invasive Mechanical Ventilation for Treatment of Chronic Respiratory Failure.